NEW-YORK POLITICS.

The American State Convention at Utica.

UTICA, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 20.

About one hundred and twenty persons are here this evening on attendance to the American Convention, including delegates from thirty Counties, but not all full.

Little opposition at present develops itself to the nomination for a divided ticket between the nominees already in the field.

The Hon. Erastus Wolcott, the Hon. Lorenzo Burrows, the Hon. Daniel Ullman, the Hon. Joel T. Headley, the Hon. George Briggs, Gen. Gustavus Adolphus Scragg, Samuel J. Wilkin, James Kidd, Esq., James M. Tocsa, H. E. Northrop, and other prominent actors in the American organization, are here.

At present there is only a slight sprinkling of outsiders from the other parties in attendance.

Some slight talk is going on for a straight American ticket, and cause for no ticket at all, but for a platform strongly condemning the "irrepressible conflict" doctrine. There is little prospect, however, of either making headway against the eclectic ticket. The delegates at present favor the following candidates:

Judge of the Court of Appeals—HENRY E. DAVIES, Democrat, Certain.

Secretary of State—E. W. LEAVENWORTH, Republican, Doubtful.

Comptroller—SAMUEL E. CHURCH, Democrat, Certain.

Attorney-General—CHARLES G. MYERS, Republican, Certain.

State Engineer—VAN R. RICHMOND, Democrat, Doubtful.

Treasurer—PHILIP DORSHEIMER, Republican, doubtful.

Canal Commissioner—WILLIAM B. SKINNER, Democrat, doubtful.

State Prison Inspector—DAVID P. FORREST, Republican, certain.

Clerk of the Court of Appeals—JOHN L. LEWIS, Democrat, pretty certain.

The nomination of Mr. CHURCH for Comptroller seems certain, in consequence of the anti-canal record of Mr. DORSHEIMER, the Republican nominee. So is that of Mr. MYERS for Attorney-General, the argument used against Mr. TAUSZKIEB, the Democratic nominee, being his constant opposition to Americanism.

The other candidates may be varied somewhat from the above.

There is very little excitement apparent.

MASSACHUSETTS POLITICS.

Massachusetts Republican State Convention.

NOMINATION OF ALL THE PRESENT STATE OFFICERS.

FITCHBURG, MASS., Tuesday, Sept. 20.

The Republican Convention for the nomination of State officers was held here to-day.

There was a large number of delegates and the apparent unity of opinion.

Rufus H. KELLOGG, of Pittsfield, was elected President, with Vice-Presidents representing all sections of the State.

The Committee on credentials reported 353 towns, represented by 1,327 delegates.

Mr. KELLOGG, on taking the Chair, addressed the Convention at considerable length. He laid down the party platform as in favor of a protective tariff, a reservation of the public lands in favor of actual settlers, the protection of every citizen, wherever he is or wherever he was born, and opposition to all Filibustering and the African Slave-trade.

On the first ballot for Governor, Mr. BANKS received 551 out of 712 ballots cast. His nomination was then made unanimous.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR TAYLOR was nominated for reelection on a ballot, 613 out of 710 ballots cast.

The nominations of OLIVER WARNER, as Secretary of State; HENRY TRUSTY, as State Treasurer; H. PHILLIPS, as Attorney-General; and CHARLES WHITE, as Auditor—all present incumbents—followed with great enthusiasm.

In the afternoon the Committee on Resolutions reported a series, the first of which says, that the Republican Party originated in opposition to the slave power and is necessary for the preservation of State rights; the second and third resolutions denounce the present National Administration for extravagance in the expenses of the Government, for truckling to the slave power, for allowing the reopening of the African Slave-trade, and refusing protection to naturalized citizens. The fourth resolution contemplates an early assumption of the national power by the Republicans, and predicts for them a continued reign. The fifth and last resolution is devoted to State affairs, and highly complimentary to the present Government.

The resolutions were unanimously passed.

About 800 delegates were present at the Convention, and everything passed on in harmony.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

Governor Douglas on Judge Black's Pamphlet.

In a speech delivered at Wooster, Ohio, on the 16th of September, Mr. DOUGLAS took up the reply to his recent article in Harper's Magazine, and dismissed it as follows:

"The pamphlet is anonymous, but the New-York Herald says it is by Judge BLACK, the same who, last year, addressed a letter to Illinois advising Democrats to vote for the Republican ticket. Whether he did write it or not he should not say, but the copy he had came to me from a friend under Buchanan's frank. He said he should not consider it worthy of a reply had it not been published in Washington, and aimed to strike down, by such means, a host of noble men, now leading the Democratic columns in the State Campaign, under the banner of popular sovereignty.

"Before reading the last sentence of BLACK's review I was called upon to make a contest, at once unjustifiable and hopeless, with the judicial authority of the Union. We object to it. We will not obey Mr. BUCHANAN when he commands us to assault the Supreme Court of the United States. We believe the decision right, and Mr. DOUGLAS wrong."

Then followed: "In case he is elected President, he will see that the laws faithfully executed. Does he think we can do less than call on him to do his duty? Does he think we could not have invited all to read with the Supreme Court of the United States, instead of which this man proposes to be a tribunal to judge for the people? Does he think we could not have invited the judiciary of the country was not an infamous falsehood. The author knew full well that it was an infamous falsehood! To violate that decision of the Supreme Court he had made his most earnest efforts. In over one hundred and thirty speeches in Illinois last year, he had every time and everywhere spoken in vindication of the decisions of the Court. He quoted that decision to prove that his devotion to the Democratic doctrine of Popular Sovereignty was Constitutional and well founded. The man who wrote that could not look the eye and repeat the assertion that the Herald has contained any occasion for such a charge.

"I quote from BLACK's article:

"'Congress has no power to make for the Territorial Governments the rules concerning property on the ground that these are Territorial Governments, having uncontrollable power over all their internal affairs,' says Mr. BLACK, 'I deny that I ever uttered any such ridiculous nonsense. A Territory could confiscate private property in slaves just as easily as any other Government. It is wholly false. I deny that a State can confiscate slaves, and well that it was an infamous falsehood! To violate that decision of the Supreme Court he had made his most earnest efforts. In over one hundred and thirty speeches in Illinois last year, he had every time and everywhere spoken in vindication of the decisions of the Court. He quoted that decision to prove that his devotion to the Democratic doctrine of Popular Sovereignty was Constitutional and well founded. The man who wrote that could not look the eye and repeat the assertion that the Herald has contained any occasion for such a charge.

HAYTI.

Official Declaration to the Free Citizens of the United States—Business Made by the New Government—Emigration to Transmission, &c.—Correspondence of the New-York Times.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, HAYTI, Aug. 22, 1859.

The news at this time is not of great interest. The President recently returned from a visit to Petite Goave, and will presently set forth on a grand tour to the North. This movement is to consolidate the Government and extinguish the petty cabals that have been made, from time to time, by demagogues of the more ignorant class, to inaugurate a plot or plot against President GEFFRARD. Only the days ago a bulletin appeared, as an ultimatum of the Government, to the effect that, for persisting in treasonable correspondence with SOULOUQUE, she was guarded by a company of soldiers to protect her against the fury of the populace, who, to the number of a thousand at least, followed her to the wharf with cries of contempt and derision.

The celebrated soap-boxes taken from SOULOUQUE when he was sent away, have been opened in presence of the English, French and Spanish Consuls. Instead of containing $600,000, as was reported at the time, they were found to have $600,132 72, Spanish, in gold, silver, and Haytien metallic currency.

The Government of GEFFRARD may now be considered as a permanent institution. It is popular with the great masses of the people—the country folks or peasantry—who remember with horror the tyranny of the Emperor, and have no desire for further bloodshed or intrigue. The President addressed the National Guard last Sunday, and spoke freely of the conspiracies that had been formed against him. He said that he knew all the different conspirators, and would quietly await their time of action. He had no fear that they could succeed. As the augured class also is generally satisfied with this Government, there is no other part of the population out of which to create a revolution.

Since the Republic has been established, many great reforms have been inaugurated; although progress in the tropics has a very slow gait, as compared with progress in America. "Nous ne courons pas donc ce pays ci," is not less true of pedestrian locomotion than of social or political progress. But yet, knowing the obstacles,—many and great,—which obstruct every effort toward progress here, we can review, with pleasure and hope the list of reforms inaugurated by the Government of GEFFRARD.

Let us briefly glance at the more prominent:

First of all, much has been done, in many ways, to conciliate the two Haytien castes, between whom, in past years, the prejudice has been as great, or greater than exists between the whites and blacks of the United States.

II. The army has been reduced from twenty-four thousand to ten thousand and odd. It was being rapidly still further reduced; but the Government was obliged to stop. Can you guess the reason? A few demagogues in the country industriously spread the rumor that GEFFRARD was preparing to sell the country to the whites! This was to excite the prejudices of the blacks against GEFFRARD, as being a octoroon man. Such an attempt would astonish you if you were to see the President and knew nothing of the nice distinctions that are drawn, with respect to color, in Hayti. With features nearly Caucasian, GEFFRARD would be discounted by every one at home as a black; for he is neither in color nor even by blood, neither in fact nor in technical accuracy a mulatto. But, as ten thousand men have, in spite of the demagogues, been restored to the opportunity of working, while we may regret the reaction we can rejoice that it was not quite so effective as it was ridiculous.

III. Education has received a new impetus. Several new schools have been established in Port-au-Prince and in the surrounding country, and are in course of establishment in the seaports around the coast. As soon as teachers can be had, and the necessary means can be provided, free schools will be established in every commune of the republic, and education, I am told, will be made, as in Prussia, compulsory. Without such a law, rigidly enforced, the establishment of schools will be a useless expense.

IV. To introduce a reform in morality, the Government have applied to France for a hundred decent priests. There are now in Hayti, between thirty and forty priests, all of whom, with one exception, are white men, and great rascals; openly profligate, avaricious and abandoned in their conduct, nearly every one of them.

V. The National Guard has been reorganized—a measure which will yet enable the Government to dispense with the present ruinous military system, and depend on it and a small regular standing army for all ordinary exigencies of government. It forms a barrier, also, against ignorant domination, which (if the blacks are in every respect treated as equals will prove hereafter an impossible evil. This Guard existed in the time of BOYER, but its object then was to keep back the blacks from political power, which now, thanks to SOULOUQUE, (who taught the blacks their power as well as the mulattoes their madness and danger,) is a thing that can never be repeated.

VI. The pay of the executive, judiciary, and military officials has been increased, which will do much to extinguish the universal corruption in high places which distinguished the era of SOULOUQUE.

VII. The exaction of coffee has been abolished, and a tax, (to be partly paid in the currency of the country) has been substituted for it. SOULOUQUE made secret issues of paper money but refused to take a single bill in payment of taxes.

VIII. Peace has been made, or guarantees have been given, that peace will be kept with the Eastern part of the island. This will revive the lucrative commerce which formerly existed between the East and West—as soon, at least, as the Dominicans are at peace, or get a sensible government. The re-union of the Island is now but an affair of time.

IX. A Naval School has been established.

X. A model farm is in course of being established.

XI. The Police system is in course of reorganization.

XII. The Islands of Gonave and Tortuga, with their vast mineral wealth, have been thrown open for the competition of foreign capitalists.

XIII. The term of service in the army has been reduced from life to nine years.

XIV. The liberty of speech and the Press has been firmly established.

XV. The practice of SOULOUQUE, of dictating to the Judges, has been abolished.

XVI. Notwithstanding the necessities of the Revolution, no new paper money has been issued; only enough has been issued to substitute for the torn and defaced bills that are brought to the Treasury. There is between forty and fifty millions of this paper in circulation; worth, at the present rate of exchange, about $2,500,000. This is to be recalled as soon as the finances of the Republic permit.

XVII. Improved arms for the military have been purchased from the United States and ordered from France.

XVIII. Schools for girls have been established. There is a very return, and one greatly demanded. This education of girls, whether under CAMPERDOWN, Napoleon, the Four Presidents, or SOULOUQUE, has always been greatly neglected in Hayti. Two girls' schools, I believe, were established by FERRAS, but stop the rate there.

XIX. A new system of remunerating Custom-house officers has been established, by which the gigantic "Speculations" which have always distinguished that Department, will be rendered more difficult, if not extinguished.

XX. Emigration has been encouraged. The exiles banished by SOULOUQUE have returned in great numbers, bringing with them more both of wealth and intelligence than they took away. Several hundreds of new settlers have been brought from New-Orleans. The Government have in Press the following document:

BUREAU OF HAYTI—CALL FOR EMIGRATION.

Sons of our race dispersed in the United States! You know your social position, instead of ameliorating, daily becomes worse. The chains of those who are either not riveted, and prejudice, more implacable than slavery, has servitude, purchase and crushes down the free. Everything is contested with by its victims, they politely, nevertheless, they boast of liberty; they have invented a new Slavery for the free who believed that they had only to enjoy it; it is this humiliating poison which is revolting to your hearts. Philanthropy, in spite of its noble efforts, seems more powerless than ever to make their cause triumphant. Contempt and hatred increase against you, and the people of the United States wish to eject you, from its bosom.

Well! come to us; the doors of Hayti are open to you. By a happy coincidence which Providence seems to have reserved for you, Hayti has risen from the long debasement in which a tyrannical government held her; liberty is restored there. Come and join us, come and bring to us a contingent of power, of light of work; come, and, together with the people of the common country, prosper. We will come, by this means, to the aid of the philanthropists who make such generous efforts to break the irons of those of ours who are still in Slavery.

Our institutions are liberal. The Government is mild and moderate. Our soil is virgin and rich; we have large tracts of good land—nearly all uncultivated—which ask only intelligent workmen to fill them; everything assures you, in this country, of a happy future.

For those among you possessing capital, it will be easy for them to find at once their place amongst us. The country offers them immediate resources. They can count on the solicitude of the Government and on its special protection. Our society is ready to close ranks, and surround the foreign fraternal welcome. They will enjoy here all the consideration that they may put; they will occupy the rank that only their aptitude, energy, and all the things that a generous and hospitable reception reserves to them in countries hospitable to our race.

The poorer emigrants shall have the right to all that their situation demands. The Government will provide for their first necessities, and will take the proper measures to ensure them, as well as the desirable asylum, as well as to facilitate for them the means of obtaining the food, clothing, and lodging.

It is very natural that you should ask, before coming to an unknown country, what are the facilities that will be offered to you, as well for the satisfaction of your first needs as for your definitive establishment. This thought has seriously occupied the Chief of the Republic and his Government.

I proceed to make the determination to which it has come:

To such of you as are not able to pay the expenses of the passage, aid will be given from the public Treasury.

Agents, whom I shall presently designate to the United States, will be charged to make the necessary engagements in this respect.

On their arrival here the emigrants will find lodging gratuitously, where, during the first days, their needs will be provided for.

Government will occupy itself from this time with providing means to offer to each arrival, either on private estates or the public domains, with sufficiently remunerative work.

Every individual, the issue of African blood, ought, on his arrival, to declare his wish to be naturalized; and, after one year's residence, he can become a citizen of Hayti, enjoying all his civil and political rights.

The emigrants will be dispensed with from military service, but their children, when they are of the requisite age, shall be held to do the service conformably to the laws of the country; that is to say, for a limited time and by the result of conscription. (Pas moins ou forage du sort.)

This exception does not constitute, in their favor, a modification of the law on the National Guard, of which every citizen should form a part.

You will have power, also, freely to profess your religion.

I have spoken here only of the members of the African race who groan in the United States, more than elsewhere, by reason of the ignoble prejudice of color; but our sympathies are equally extended to all those of our origin, who, throughout the world, are trodden under foot by the same sufferings. Let them come to us! The bosom of the country is open to them also. I repeat it—they will be able to acquire, either on the public or private estates, fertile lands, on which, by the aid of assiduous work, they will find that happiness which in their actual condition they cannot hope to find.

"The man whom God has pointed out with his finger to elevate the dignity of his race is found.

The hour of the reunion for all the children of Hayti is sounded! Let them be well convinced that Hayti is the bulwark of their liberty!

Given at the office of the Secretary of State of the Interior at Port-au-Prince, the 22d August, 1859, 56th year of Independence.

The Brooklyn Park—What Sort of a Park should Brooklyn have?

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The Commissioners for locating a Park in Brooklyn have reported in favor of 1,200 acres, located five to six miles from Fulton and Division-avenue Ferries, and including the Ridgewood Water Works and three cemeteries. This matter should be well understood. Such Parks are supposed to cost a little something, and if wrongly placed must defeat real requirements. Aside from the insurmountable fact that the contiguous festivities of a Park and the solemnities of a burial ground must greatly defeat the design of either of these necessary institutions, the distance of the proposed location is such as to render this merely a park of name, and not of practical convenience and utility. Let us consider the interests of New-York and Brooklyn together, as they are homogeneous in this matter. New-York has but just commenced its strides of commercial greatness, and has only had railroad accommodations for an internal Winter commerce since the last census. City improvements must extend in a relative distance from its centre of business. The City Hall Park is above this business centre, and must so continue. A compass revolving from this point upon an outer line of Fiftieth-street, the extreme limit of the present population, shows that it extends to nearly the same distance in Brooklyn. Until New-York neared Canal-street, and distance became a consideration in business, Brooklyn was of but little immediate consequence. From that period, and the convenient establishment of steam ferries, their growth compares as follows:

Years.	New-York.	Brooklyn and Williamsb'gh.
1820	123,706	8,175
1830	202,589	19,396
1840	312,852	46,233
1850	515,394	123,850
1855	629,810	205,250
1860 (estimated)	639,746	323,530

New-York has doubled once in fifteen years, Brooklyn once in eight years, or as 6⅔ is to 12⅓, with a decreasing ratio in New-York, and an increasing ratio in Brooklyn. We will continue this calculation upon the above basis for New-York, and 12⅓ per cent. less for Brooklyn, starting with actual figures:

Years.	New-York.	Years.	Brooklyn.
1855	629,810	1855	205,250
1870	1,251,620	1864	410,500
1885	2,482,940	1873	621,000
1900	4,926,480	1882	1,042,000
		1891	1,284,000
		1900	6,568,000

From the Battery to Fiftieth-street is 4½ miles, on the average width of say 1⅓ miles, or say 7 square miles; estimate population of this District at 700,000. New-York is a narrow strip of land—hence all improvements must be in one direction, and reach the Central Park within a reasonable time. Brooklyn has a present water-front of over 7 miles, divided at Fulton Ferry, directly opposite the centre of business.

And with an unlimited back country, extending this compass line to include the proposed Park, would give an average depth of population of 3½ miles, or 22½ square miles, with a corresponding population of 2,250,000. Can this dense mass of human beings exist with Parks only upon their borders? Why now go five miles to a Park, while locations are unoccupied much nearer? But can New-York sustain its present increase? Can the avenues traversing this island accommodate its population at the necessary times of day? Does not the price of real estate and the expense of living exclude a majority of persons from occupying property between Twenty-third-street and One Hundred and Sixth-street, which is 7½ miles from the Battery, and has by actual calculation a capacity for only 1,250,000 population to that point.

It will be seen from the above (and it is admitted upon all hands that Brooklyn must speedily exceed New York in population) that any great change in the location of business is an absurdity; and that hotels, theatres, &c., will soon centre upon Brooklyn Heights as a convenient and eligible necessity. Ought not the citizens of this future Metropolis of the World to be alive to their interests and glory. New York can have no jealousies. She has the commerce, and its guardians can best protect it by residing in Brooklyn. But the Cities will soon be one. Nothing can do more to accelerate these inevitable movements than the easy grading of streets and the ample distribution of parks. The large Park should now have a central and convenient location upon Prospect Hill, inclosing about 200 acres upon both sides of Flatbush-avenue, a position unsurpassed in variety of scenery, and which is about equi-distance from the Fulton, Hamilton-avenue and Division-avenue Ferries. Lesser Parks should be immediately located in both the Eastern and Southern Districts. Another five years will put land out of the market for any such purpose. B.

Fashions for September.

From Le Follet.

The fair fashionables have now all fled from our cities, and, in acquainting our readers with what is à la mode, we may appropriately commence with a description of ladies' hats, which are worn more than ever, both in the country and at the sea-side, and in shapes and colors infinitely varied.

The "Trianon" hat is very pretty made in white chip, trimmed with a wreath of acacia roses, with soft velvet leaves, and tufts of roses fastened by black velvet bows placed rather forward under the front. This same shape is also made in Panama straw, and in rice straw; the former is very elegant, ornamented with a bouquet of field flowers placed on the front of the crown, and with long maize ribbon strings and bouquets of flowers inside the front—the latter simply trimmed with a wreath of mauve flowers, and strings of mauve and black velvet.

The most elegant riding-hat now worn is the "Milanais," in chip. It is very much turned up at the sides, bound with white taffetas, and ornamented by a long, white feather, spotted with black, hanging quite on the shoulder.

Brown straw hats are generally bound with black velvet, and trimmed with tufts of coq feathers, or with a long black or brown feather, reaching the shoulder.

Drab straws are pretty, trimmed with a willow plume, drab spotted with black.

The same style of feather in white or green, is worn on white straw hats. Pheasant feathers are also frequently adopted.

Among the prettiest hats we have seen this season were two of white and black mixed straw, trimmed with narrow black velvet and white coq feathers.

Straw bonnets will shortly cease to be in vogue. Those made of crape and trimmed with velvet are exceedingly stylish.

White chip and Panama plait bonnets are still worn; these are mostly trimmed with rich ribbon, black or dark colors, embroidered in Pompadour bouquets, field flowers, or sauls feathers.

For evening coiffures, Ceres wreaths are in great favor. Those formed of field flowers and wheat-ears are generally becoming, and form a pleasant contrast with a white tarlatan dress.

We have seen a charming head-dress, composed of chinnasters and gold wheat-ears; in front it formed a small diadem, and passing under the hair joined a large boquet of similar flowers, which entirely covered the back of the head. Wreaths of black and green grapes, with gold skeleton leaves, are exceedingly elegant, as well as those made with leaves of colored crape, veined with gold or silver. Lace is still much used in coiffures, and will ever be in request on account of its being so generally becoming.

Ribbons are used in trimming every part of the toilette, from the slipper to the coiffure. A very narrow ribbon is often placed on the edge of the hem in flounces of a thin material. This ribbon is sometimes quite plain, at others it is edged with black lace, white guipure, or blond.

On a very pretty laurel-green dress lately made up one of our first houses were seven flounces, each edged with a fluted ribbon of the same color as the dress.

A handsome, yet quiet-looking walking-dress, we have noticed and admired was of light brown taffetas antique, with a single skirt, set in very large plaits. Plain tight body, ornamented on the front with brandebourgs, and fastened with buttons of silk and velvet of the same color as the dress. Small bishop sleeves with buttons and epaulettes, trimmed to match the body. With this dress was worn a beautiful black Chantilly lace shawl, and a white crêpe bonnet, simply trimmed with a broad maize ribbon straight across, with long strings; a small but rich Chantilly fall being the only other ornament.

Another less rich but gayer toilette was of taffetas, of a light drab shade, with a pattern of bright-colored bouquets of flowers. This was made with two skirts, each ornamented with a fluted purple ribbon. The body was cut square, and open in front; the sleeves were open and rather short. A Pompadour mantle of white muslin, trimmed with bouillonnes lined with purple ribbon, with a small hood, was thrown over this dress. The bonnet was rice straw, edged with purple velvet and trimmed with bouquets of flowers and fruit. The full was blonde, figured with small purple flowers.

The most fashionable ball dresses at the watering-places are composed of tarlatan, trimmed with gauffered flounces.

The Rivalry of France and England.

From the London Times, Sept. 3.

We do not believe it to be true, and there is no reason for the allegation, that any journal, orator, or politician of any kind has said a word to excite the susceptibilities of France, or create alarm, for the selfish reason assigned by M. DE MOLNY—viz., for the sake of popularity. The only feeling of the British people is a simple apprehension of finding themselves some day the object of attack by an ambitious, fickle, and excitable neighbor, and a consequent determination to be prepared for the emergency. With us this is entirely a matter of self-preservation. We do not wish to take from France one acre, one town, one ship, one man; but neither do we wish to lose one. We are painfully aware that now for several generations it has been the natural instinct of France to perform a grand part in European politics, and compose her internal troubles, under a military dictator, or an absolutist dynasty. It is a feeling now wholly independent of this or that man, this or that family; and nobody here dreams that we should find France a safer neighborhood under the temporary check of an experimental Constitution. But a nation which has made up its mind to be governed by a military chief, which emphatically seizes that refuge from internal disorders and that instrument of national glory, must ever inspire just apprehensions in a neighbor as emphatically resolved against this course. Were England now to find such a Government established in London as it sees at Paris, we should expect to see half the middle and upper classes of this country following the example of the Pilgrim Fathers on a similar emergency. A Great Eastern a week for ten years would hardly suffice for the exodus of everything that is really British in these isles. Whence this overpowering feeling of our natures? It is the habitual resolution to be our own masters. We will not depend on the caprice, the folly, or even the wisdom of any one man. If such be our feeling with regard to our own institutions, the occupant of our palaces, and the head of our own army, our own civil and ecclesiastical establishments, it is not extraordinary that we will not depend on the mercy or the sanity of the man, whoever he may be, occupying the Tuileries. There is no mincing the matter, and we say it with all respect, we have just seen in Italy a specimen of what such a man, may do, without any preparation, and with the ordinary peace establishments of France. As the Presse reminds us, France is now aware, and was told a fortnight ago by a member of her Corps Législatif, that "henceforth, at her own pleasure, and choosing her own time, she can suddenly throw from 50,000 to 60,000 men on any point she pleases of an enemy's territory." So, even if feelings be put out of the question—even it happened that through some common pursuit England and France were at this moment in a state of more than usual accord, still we should make a point of being prepared for a change in her feelings or policy. This would be nothing more than a logical sequence from the jealousy we show in our domestic institutions. We will not be at the mercy of an Englishman, much less, therefore, of a foreigner.

That is the only sentiment which is allowed to show itself, and to influence the conduct of England. No doubt there are people here, as there are everywhere, who crave for the excitement of war, it matters not with whom. But this is not the ruling sentiment, nor the sentiment of any but a very small minority. England only consults her safety.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—SEPT. 20.

JURISDICTION—INTERNAL COMMERCE—REPAIRS.

Levi Hayden et al vs. The Steamboat Troy.—This was an action brought to recover for supplies furnished to the steamboat Troy, a domestic vessel. The libel was filed Aug. 18, 1857. The claimants did not raise the question of jurisdiction in their answer, but placed their defence on other grounds, and thereupon a decree was rendered against the steamboat on April 9, 1858, for the sum of $1,344, from which decree the claimants appealed to this Court. In December Term of the United States Supreme Court, the 12th Rule of that Court, authorizing the District Courts to take cognizance of liens on domestic vessels under State laws was modified so as to take away that jurisdiction, the modification of the rule to go into effect May 1, 1859. The claimants thereupon took testimony to show that the Troy was engaged in navigating between Troy and New-York.

NELSON, C., J.—The libel in this case was filed by the libelants to recover for materials, supplied to and work done upon the steamboat Troy in July, 1857. It was agreed by the counsel on both sides that the Troy was engaged in running upon the North River between the ports of Troy and New-York and intermediate places, exclusively within the State of New-York, and that the question submitted is, whether upon this state of facts the Court below had jurisdiction of the case.

In the case of Allen vs. Newbury, (21, How., 224,) the Supreme Court of the United States held that the District Court of the State of Wisconsin had no jurisdiction over a contract of affreightment of goods between the ports of Two Rivers and Milwaukee, both being within the same State; that the contract related to the purely internal commerce of the State, which was not within the cognizance of the Admiralty. And again, at the same term, in the case of Maguire vs. Card, (ib, p. 248,) it was held that the District Court of California had no jurisdiction over a contract for supplies furnished the Goliah, a steamboat engaged in the business of navigation and trade on the Sacramento River, and between ports exclusively within the State of California. The Court regarded this case as governed by the previous case of Allen vs. Newbury.

The case last decided comes fully up to the one in hand. The principle is, that a contract arising out of the trade and navigation of a vessel engaged in the purely internal commerce of a State, is governed by State laws and belongs exclusively to State cognizance. In the case of the Goliah, the supplies furnished were coal; in the present case, materials and labor in the repair of the vessel.

We make no question under the local law giving a lien in the case as made in the libel, for the suit was commenced before the change of the Rule, refusing longer to recognize and enforce these liens in the Admiralty. That did not take effect till 1st May, 1859. All suits commenced previous to this time were saved. But this case does not depend upon that question. It turns upon the ground that the contract is not one within the Admiralty, as held in the two cases above referred to. The local law as to the lien has no bearing upon the question.

We must, therefore, for the reason given, reverse the decree below for want of jurisdiction in that Court, and dismiss the libel.

For libelants, Mr. Huntly; for claimants and appellants, Messrs. Beebe, Dean Donohue.

JURISDICTION—REPAIRS—STATE LAWS.

William W. Tupper et al., vs. The steamship St. Lawrence, Meyer & Stucken claimants.—This was also an action brought to recover the value of repairs furnished to the steamship in the port of New-York. The libel was filed in April, 1856. The final decree was rendered in the District Court in favor of the libelants, in January, 1858, for $2,250 80. The claimants appealed from this decree, and filed a new answer in the Circuit Court, setting up, among other things, that the vessel was a domestic vessel, and the Court below had therefore no jurisdiction of the action. The appeal came on for argument this morning, when Judge NELSON said that in all cases commenced before the 1st of May last, when the new rule of law established by the Supreme Court in their modification of the 12th Rule went into effect, the law was as it had been for years before, viz.: that the Federal Courts had the right to and would enforce the lien given by State statutes upon domestic vessels; but in cases occurring after that date, they would not exercise jurisdiction over such liens. This case, therefore, being commenced before that date, he should affirm the decree of the Court below.

For libelants, Mr. J. T. Williams; for claimants and appelants, Messrs. Beebe, Dean & Donohue.

MOTION TO SUBSTITUTE ATTORNEY.

The Virginia Fire and Marine Insurance Company vs. Nathaniel Blanchard et al.—This was a motion to compel the former attorney of the defendant to surrender the papers, and that another attorney be substituted in his place.

Motion granted, on payment to the former attorney of his costs, to be taxed.

For the motion, Mr. Stevens; in opposition, Mr. Moultrie.

INJUNCTION.

F. H. Bartholomew vs. Nathaniel Sawyer et al.—This was a suit in equity, to obtain an injunction, restraining the defendants from infringing upon a patent issued to him for machinery for water-closet. In a trial at law between the same parties, the validity of the plaintiff's patent was established and damages awarded against the defendants. A motion for a new trial on a case was argued a few days ago, before Judges NELSON and INGERSOLL, and the motion denied.

Judge INGERSOLL thereupon, this morning, made his decision in this equity suit, granting the injunction, pursuant to the prayer of the bill.

F. H. Bartholomew vs. James Jones et al.—In this case, which was similar to the preceding one, a similar injunction was awarded.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—SEPT. 20.

Before Judge Betts.

AN OLD GAME REVIVED.

In the matter of the estate of John Pintard, a

On the 8th day of July, 1858, the Commissioner of Bankruptcy, under the Bankrupt act of 1841, adjudged John Pintard a bankrupt; that he was a resident of Hudson, in the State of New-York; that he owed debts, and was, on May 20, 1858, the same to James Farquhar and Benjamin Wright, of Orange, in the State of New-York, for $50. And now Louisa Scott Scroop and Thomas L. Scroop present a petition to this Court setting up these facts, and also stating that they are but remotely, any farther or other action of the Commissioners in the matter; that none of the Commissioners or bankrupts are now living; that the bankrupt died June 21, 1844, and by his will devised all his estate to Andrew Warner in trust for the petitioner Louisa M. Scroop, who was a daughter of the bankrupt; and that the said trustee has since conveyed to her all said estate, and that they are informed that the sale of May 20, 1807, was not of all the lands, &c., of the estate of the bankrupt, but that the said trust still remains in part unexecuted.

They, therefore, pray that the Court will appoint some suitable persons in place of said Commissioners and Assignees, so that any remaining interest and estate of the bankrupt may be disposed of, and the rights of the petitioners be ascertained and determined.

BETTS, J.—A cardinal defect in the application is that it avers no fact over which this Court can exercise jurisdiction. It appears by an exemplification of conveyances accompanying the petition, that more than fifty years since all the estate, interests and equities subsisting in the bankrupt at the time his bankruptcy was declared, were under the most comprehensive and absolute terms of grant, formerly conveyed by the Commissioners of Bankruptcy to regular assignees of the bankrupt, and that they also, at that distant period, divested themselves of specific portions of property by regular and solemn deed of grant. No action of the Court, of its officers, of the creditors of the bankrupt, of himself or of his personal representatives, is averred to have been taken in relation to the premises in now a lapse of more than half a century. That long unmoved silence unexplained, denotes that the interests once connected with the subject matter, are now closed and barred forever.

Courts of Justice will never authorize their powers to be put in motion to resuscitate known rights, after having been allowed to sleep so long; much less can these powers be used in fishing for evidence of claims not shown to have had a legal value or even an existence.

The petitioners furnish no semblance of evidence that the assignees took any estate not fully administered upon, or that the bankrupt, at his decease, left any interest by his Will, which did not belong to his creditors. His heirs or devisees have no right to claim the interposition of the Court to enforce, at this time, a performance of the trust cast upon his assignees, (supposing there was a dereliction of duty on their part,) without first establishing that there is an inheritance yet outstanding, within the reach and control of the Court, which the Court may have wielded and applied to their benefit, by reviving the bankrupt proceedings, and having them duly carried forward to completion.

The prayer of the petitioners is accordingly denied.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM—SEPT. 20.

Judges Roosevelt, Sutherland and Emott.

NOTICE.

The Court promulgated the following order:

Ordered, That after the present term, no cause on the day calendar of the General Term will be postponed on account of the engagements of counsel in another court.

Thirty causes will be placed on the day calendar until otherwise ordered.

CIRCUIT.

Before Justice Potter.

EVIDENCE OF PLAINTIFFS' COPARTNERSHIP IN AN ACTION BY PARTNERS ON A PROMISSORY NOTE.

John L. Wilson and Allston Wilson vs. Frances M. Havens.—This was an action to recover of the defendant the sum of $7,295 62, with interest from the 2d day of June, 1857, on a promissory note made by her on that day for that amount, payable to the order of George W. Soule.

This note was subsequently transferred to the plaintiffs, who sued on the note.

The defence was that the note was transferred to the plaintiffs without consideration accruing to the defendant; that the defendant never received anything on the note; and that the plaintiffs only pretended to hold the note as part payment of an antecedent indebtedness of the payee to them.

After the action was commenced Miss Havens died, and the present action was continued against Mr. E. B. Sackett, her administrator. On the trial counsel for the defendant objected that the plaintiffs could not go on with their case until they had shown themselves partners in business, as they alleged themselves to be such, and held and sued upon the note as such. The plaintiffs' counsel then contended that as they appeared in Court jointly and sued jointly as holders of the note, they must be presumed to be the proper holders unless they were proven not to be such. The Court held that the plaintiffs must show that they were partners in business as they alleged themselves to be, and directed them so to do. One or two witnesses were then put upon the stand, but it was only proven that the plaintiffs had been partners up to the first of May, 1857, and after that only for purposes of liquidation. The Court held that their present relations did not warrant their traffic in notes. Mr. Soule, the payee of the note, was afterwards put upon the stand, and incidentally stated that the consideration of the note as between himself and the plaintiffs, was a note of the plaintiffs for $2,100, the money on which he received, but never paid any of it over to the defendant or her administrator. The Court held that the fact that the firm had thus given their note in payment for the one now sued upon, was no evidence of their copartnership sufficient to enable them to bring the present suit jointly, and ordered a non-suit. Plaintiffs' counsel then requested the Court to state, for their benefit, who should bring suit on the note, as they were at a loss to know; but the defendant's counsel objected, unless they first tendered a fee. Judge PETTIT stated that he had ceased to practice, and should not volunteer his opinion. Plaintiffs' counsel then asked and obtained twenty days, in which to make a case to take the question to the General Term.

Monell, Willard and Howe for plaintiff.

Luther R. Marsh for defendant.

THE HUDSON CITY TAR AND FEATHER SUIT.

William Mower vs. Peter Bogardus, Abraham Bogardus, William Hunt, Myron Van Dusen, Silas H. Toby, Chas. L. Winchell and A. V. V. Elting.—This was an action to recover of the defendants, citizens of Hudson, damages in the sum of $20,000, for an outrage alleged to have been committed by them on the plaintiff, a colored man, in the latter part of July, 1856. He, at the time, was a barber in Hudson City. The assault was carried to the extent of tarring and feathering the plaintiff. His complaint set up the facts which appear in his own evidence, which we state below quite fully.

The answer admits that the plaintiff was tarred and feathered as alleged in the complaint, but denied that the defendants had anything to do with it; and further avowed that the plaintiff had been guilty of seducing away from her father's house the daughter of Mr. Elting, one of the defendants, a young lady alleged to be of unsound mind; and that the plaintiff did, by such means, have criminal intercourse with her, which was avowed as a sufficient reason for the chastisement of the plaintiff inflicted by defendants.

The complaint in the case was filed in April, 1856, but has never before been reached on the calendar. The place of trial was changed to this county by proceedings heretofore had, founded on affidavits of the plaintiff and others, to the effect that he could not safely proceed to bring his action to trial in the City of Hudson. The cause coming on to-day was opened on behalf of the plaintiff by Luther R. Marsh, Esq. After his address, the plaintiff was put upon the stand as a witness in his own behalf, and testified, substantially, as follows:

Mr. Mower, plaintiff, sworn—My age is forty-nine or fifty years; I have lived in Hudson in the neighborhood of fifteen years; I have a family, a wife and three children; I had a house and lot there; my house and lot were worth to me $2,000; my furniture was worth perhaps $100; my shop tools were worth about $300; my business was worth to me about $25 per week; I was an officer in the church there; in the latter part of July, 1856, I was in my shop, engaged in shaving a gentleman, and hearing some one walking backwards and forwards, and upon opening my shop-door, to see who it was, the mob rushed in, headed by one Buck Hammond, who said they wanted me; and the first I knew thereafter, I was picked up by Myron Van Dusen; Van Dusen said (which was the first I heard) "Hold on, boys, don't let's kill him here, let's take him on the Square." (This was in front of the shop.) I said "What in the name of heaven are you going to do?" I had then seen that my wrist was broken; Van Dusen said I should not have fought back; I asked what they were going to do with me; he said they wanted to talk with me; I then asked if they could not talk with me there; he then laid hold of me and took me out to the Square, when Van Dusen said, "Boys, I've got him here, now form your ring, and do with him what you please." the Square was about two blocks from my shop; the mob followed these, and the cry was, "Kill him;" they then ordered me to strip myself; I asked what for; they said, "No matter, strip yourself, or it may be worse for you." Abraham Bogardus and Charley Winchell stood near me; I asked of Bogardus what it all meant; he said he knew nothing about it, but advised me to strip myself; Winchell said, "If you have any watch or money give it to Mr. Bogardus;" and Mr. Bogardus said, "Yes, let me have it;" I then saw Peter Bogardus, and asked him what it meant; he said he knew nothing about it; advised me to strip, and jumped back; Winchell said, "Don't stand here talking, but strip yourself;" Winchell then laid hold of me and aided in stripping me, and Abraham Bogardus took my watch and money; they then thrust me down and stripped my clothes off and tarred and feathered me; they then said it had been their painful duty to tar and feather me, and it was ordered that I leave the city by that "Vigilance Committee of the City of Hudson;" they said I was not to return to the city; about this time, one William H. Hunt, (a butcher,) said: "Let me come in there with my butcher knife, and I will make an end of him;" the witness then related the process of the taring and feathering; he said they took a swab and rubbed the tar on harshly, until he was smeared, and then some one of the crowd rushed in and turned the entire contents of the pail on his head; they then threw handfuls of sand in his eyes, and gave him a coat of feathers; Winchell then said, "Open the ring," and some one called for a rail; Winchell said, "No matter, open the ring," and when it was open Winchell said, "Run, for your life;" I did not run, as I was trying to get the tar and sand out of my eyes so that I could see; I then started to walk off, when Winchell told me to run or they would kill me; giving me a push; I looked back and saw some one in; his coat sleeves after me, who struck at me, but missed his aim and fell; I then heard a pistol report; they then chased me perhaps a quarter of a mile over sharp cinders which cut my feet; I finally arrived at a thorn or bramble bush and tried to go into it, but the thorns were so thick I could not; they, however, thought I went in there, (and in trying to go

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The steamship Arabia, of the Cunard line, with European advices to September 10, reached Halifax last evening. Owing to the misunderstanding existing between the Nova Scotia Telegraph Company and the Associated Press, the news received by that steamer, we should have received entirely upon her arrival, will only come to hand in time for our evening edition. The synoptic footer, as usual, was supplied by horse-express to Backville. No tidings of the Canada have been at Quebec, or of the New-York, down Long Island Sound, have been received.

The steamship Star of the West left yesterday for Aspinwall with a large number of passengers and the United States mails. This is the last trip to be made under the contract heretofore existing with the United States Mail Company, (M. O. Roberts' line) and the business is hereafter to be done by the North Atlantic Steamship Company, the steamers Baltic, Atlantic and Adriatic of which will run on the Atlantic side. An advertisement elsewhere announces that the ticket-office of the Company is also now moved from No. 177 Broadway to the pier at the foot of Canal-street, the famous depôt of the Collins line.

Lieut. Hall, lately sailed, yesterday, in the Star of the West on his mission to Washington Territory, to which he has been ordered by the President, to view at the conflict of authority between the British and American authorities upon the Island of San Juan. Large crowds gathered on the pier at which the steamer lay, and on the wharves and shipping near it, and amid loud cheering and the firing of cannon, the General started on his voyage.

A telegraphic dispatch from New-Orleans announces the death of Dr. ROBERT M. GRAHAM, from the effects of a wound received in a shooting affray with Mr. BENJAMIN TOLLIMAN. The affray grew out of a political difficulty. This is undoubtedly the same Dr. ROBERT M. GRAHAM who figured before our Courts in the year 1854, as the murderer of Col. CHARLES LORING, of California, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, under the most aggravated circumstances. Col. LORING, with his wife, occupied apartments at the St. Nicholas, as likewise did Dr. GRAHAM and his family—their respective rooms being contiguous. On the afternoon and night of Tuesday, Aug. 1, Dr. GRAHAM, under the influence of liquor, created considerable disturbance in the hotel, but was induced to retire to his room, where he remained quietly until towards daylight, on Wednesday, when he arose from his bed, and wanting water, left his room, and commenced to ring the chambermaid's bell violently in the hall. Col. LORING, whose wife was ill, remonstrated with him, and requested him to desist, but GRAHAM paid no attention to his request, and at last Col. LORING went down to the office of the hotel to obtain the removal of GRAHAM. As he was ascending the stairs on his return, he was met by GRAHAM, and an altercation ensued, which resulted in the stabbing of LORING. The weapon used was the long blade of a sword-cane, which was plunged into LORING's side with great violence, where it was twisted about and left when it was pulled out. A Coroner's inquest was immediately commenced, which resulted in the arrest of GRAHAM to abide the action of the Grand Jury. The trial was commenced in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge MITCHELL, on the 24 of October, 1854, and continued until the evening of the 9th, the Jury, at 2½ o'clock the next morning, finding a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree. He was sentenced to the State Prison at Sing Sing, but was pardoned by Gov. CLARK on the 6th of March, 1856, after serving a portion of his time.

The Democracy of this State, for the nomination of candidates for State officers, will assemble at Utica to-day. Very little excitement is manifested on the occasion, no opposition of consequence to the plan of dividing the State between the candidates of the two most prominent parties, having developed itself. Only about one hundred and twenty persons had arrived in Utica up to last evening to attend the Convention, including the political men of the party.

The Democracy of Rensselaer, for the nomination of candidates for State officers, assembled at Pittstown yesterday. The attendance of delegates was very large, and proceedings were characterized by great harmony. The present State officers were renominated, Gov. BANKS receiving the entire vote, all but 677 of the 712 votes cast.

By the arrival of the Overland Mail at St. Louis from California, Oregon and the Island of San Juan, dates from San Francisco are to the 8th ult., which was more active, in spite of a speculative character. A painful report comes from Oregon to the effect that a party of one hundred and forty United States troops, under command of Capt. WALLEN, had been massacred by the Snake Indians. At Fort Bellingham the report was received with credit. On San Juan Island affairs had undergone no change of importance. The American troops, the number of which had been increased to 461, still held possession.

By the arrival of the ship T. H. Mayhew, we have Honolulu papers of the 5th inst. There is not a word of news.

A correspondence has passed between the Relief Committee of Baltimore and Mayor SWANN in regard to the selection of measures to quell the riot of that city. The Committee having requested the Mayor's cooperation in the work of relief, Mr. SWANN replied in a curt letter, declining to acknowledge the authority of the Committee, accompanying this reply was an Address to the citizens of Baltimore, in which the Mayor laid the blame of the recent outrages upon the Press, which, he said, had incited the people to riot and murder. He recommends a revision of the police system, in order to provide more effectual protection.

Dr. J. H. ALPS has been held to bail, in Boston, in the sum of $10,000, to answer for his recent assault upon Mr. FAY, the Secretary of the Middlesex Mill Company. Mr. FAY is recovering from his injuries.

The Rev. SOLOMON PARKER, late a missionary in Texas, has been ordered out of Texas, for the crime of speaking against Slavery. A public meeting of the citizens of Dallas adopted a series of resolutions approving the action of the Methodist Church in expelling PARKER, and the McKINNEY in particular.

The Rev. Dr. BEECHER, as well known as the author of a work against the Pope, and as the father of a young lady who has been so active, of late, in the Kansas cause, is now in Europe. He is to be accompanied by his family, on their return, by the Rev. Dr. STOWE, who has been abroad for some time, and will also furnish a large number of letters for the American mails.

[illegible] Hering's Patent Champion Safes Again Victorious.—Read the following letter from R. W. Blatchford, Esq., proprietor of the Chicago Lead Pipe, Sheet and Bar Lead Manufactory:

CHICAGO, Sept. 18, 1859.

C. L. Herman & Co., No. 128 South Water-st., Chicago, Agents Herring's Patent Champion Safe:

GENTLEMEN: During the disastrous conflagration of last night, my Lead Pipe, Sheet and Bar Lead Manufactory, five stories in height, and 50 by 120 feet on the ground, was completely destroyed, and the walls nearly all fell. The Herring's Patent Champion Safe, size No. 6, while falling down [illegible] Richardson bought of you some three years since, was in my office on the second floor of the manufactory, and fell some 30 feet into the basement, where it laid exposed to a very severe heat for ten hours. Upon recovering it from the ruins to-day, and opening it, I found all my books, papers and money contained in it in a good state of preservation—the only damage to them being the drawing of the leather binding of the books, and their being quite damp from the safe's being filled with steam from the fire-proof filling. The fire was of the most intense character, owing to the great height of the building, and the fact that each story was in flames at once. I regard it as a most satisfactory test of the perfect fire-proof security afforded by Herring's Patent Champion Safe.

Yours truly, R. W. BLATCHFORD.

STILL LATER.

FIRE AT NEWARK, N. J.

From the Newark Daily Advertiser of Friday Evening, Sept. 16, 1859.

This morning a Herring's Safe, which had been in the shoe factory and in the ruins all night, and in the hottest part of the flames, was taken out, and on opening it, its contents (the books of Messrs. Ward & Johnson) were found to be entirely preserved.

NEWARK, Sept. 14, 1859.

GENTS: S. C. HERRING & CO.—Gents: We take pleasure in stating that our books, papers and money were preserved unimpaired in one of your Patent Champion Safes at the burning of our moulding mill on the 13th inst., after being exposed to the fire for several hours.

WARD & JOHNSON.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSE AND CURE
OF THE
PREVALENT AFFLICTIONS TO TRADES AND OCCUPATIONS.

It is my purpose to write, as briefly as possible, concerning the disorders and diseases incident to certain occupations, detailing their causes, symptoms and mode of cure. We shall do this in plain language, and in a straightforward way. Our purpose is two-fold—firstly, to give some curious facts not generally known, and secondly, to bring more forcibly to view the ready relief at hand in RADWAY'S REMEDIES. We frankly avow that the trouble we are taking is a business transaction, meant to benefit both the public and ourselves.

The diseases springing from various trades arise either from the very nature of the occupations, from the materials handled or used, or from both these causes. Scarcely any of these pursuits are necessarily unhealthy, but man will be an ingredient in their business as in their pleasure, and suffer for their neglect of precautions.

Let us first look at those who suffer from poisonous materials.

COPPERSMITHS, BRASS-FOUNDERS, BRAZIERS AND PINMAKERS,

from their manipulation of copper and its compounds, take into their system either the impalpable dust of its oxides or salts, or their fumes. The result is a copper disease, whose symptoms may vary more or less in violence, sometimes creeping slowly along until the system is utterly destroyed, or else opening an avenue to more apparent diseases. The victim to the copper disease notices, perhaps, on rising in the morning a slightly acrid taste in the mouth, a slight constriction of the throat, the tongue dry and parched, and, sometimes, sickness at the stomach. He thinks he has caught cold, and, probably, takes some advertised expectorant, which leaves him worse than before. At times there comes an attack of colic. If dysentery is at all epidemic, he is very liable to be attacked, and his tormina and tenesmus, as the doctors call them, namely, his pain in the bowels and disposition to stool, are exceedingly violent. Often a thirst which he cannot account for, or a distended abdomen, or black stools, slightly streaked with blood, or an undefinable anxiety, is the commencing symptom, and is scarcely noticed. Cramps sometimes make their appearance in the limbs and stomach, either alone or accompanied by some of the symptoms previously enumerated. A headache at the close of work, or during the day, is quite common. A preventive of these would be the use of a respirator, which checks the passage to the lungs or stomach of the dust or vapor, and gloves, to keep it from the pores of the skin. A generous diet should be used, the bowels kept open by moderate doses of RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS; a dose should be taken in the morning and evening of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, and the use of RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT persevered in, until the system is rid of the poison.

TYPE-FOUNDERS, PEWTERERS, PAINTERS, PLUMBERS AND GLAZIERS, AND WORKERS IN LEAD MANUFACTORIES OR SHOT TOWERS, are exposed to the lead disease. This, like the copper disease, may produce a series of insidious but scarcely noticed symptoms, ending sometimes in paralysis, or, more especially with painters and white-lead makers, in what is generally called painter's colic. These all, at times, will notice in their mouth, more particularly at rising, a sugary and slightly astringent taste, constriction of the windpipe, pain and uneasiness in the region of the stomach, and occasionally nausea, followed sometimes by vomiting.

COACH PAINTERS,

or those who use much vermillion, will have a tendency to diarrhœa, for, unlike copper, this shows its effects more in the small intestines; and the bladder and urinary passages will be seriously affected, sometimes merely producing painful urination, and at others, bloody or high colored urine. The REGULATING PILL and the RESOLVENT must be mainly relied on, and the parties should never go to work on an empty stomach. For the more painful symptoms the READY RELIEF will be necessary, and will by no means belie its name. It should be used internally and externally. In painter's colic, the REGULATING PILLS should be used to produce a free evacuation, and afterwards more moderately, to keep up regular action; and from the very start, the READY RELIEF given in full doses, in flax-seed or slippery-elm tea, or gum-water. The diet should be light, chiefly beef-tea, (not beef soup) or chicken broth, from which the fat has been skimmed. In paralysis, the persistent use of the REGULATING PILLS, with the READY RELIEF, well and steadily rubbed into the affected limb or part for at least fifteen minutes, three times per day, and a generous, but digestible diet, will effect a cure. In all external application the palm of the hand is the best thing to rub with, and a female hand, from its softness, should be preferred.

DYERS AND CALICO PRINTERS

are liable to several severe symptoms. Those who use muriate of tin sometimes perceive its effects in their systems. They observe an austere taste in their mouth, which is apt to turn into a well defined metallic one, together with nausea, especially after rising from a meal. Their pulse is more small and hard, and beats more frequently than natural. One very common symptom is a frequency of stools, not diarrhœa, for during some months this may be unattended by pain, and the consistency of the evacuations be normal. Twitching of the face and extremities is less common, but a more dangerous symptom, for unless promptly met, it may be followed by paralysis of the parts attacked. The treatment in this is the same as in the copper disease, viz: RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, REGULATING PILLS and RESOLVENT.

are sometimes affected in a manner similar to dyers, but in a less degree. Their attacks are rare. If peculiarly susceptible they may take the lead poison from the solder, but we never knew but one case of that kind. The acrid fumes of charcoal, in this and similar trades, sometimes produce inflammation of the bladder, which may be effectually combated by the RELIEF and REGULATING PILLS.

PAPER-STAINERS AND TAXIDERMISTS

occasionally suffer some most distressing symptoms—the former from the showy greens they use, and the latter from their constant handling of arsenic or the corrosive chloride or mercury. A fœtid breath is not uncommon, with a rather austere taste at times, considerable increase of saliva, or constriction of the lower part of the throat, which seems to extend into the breast; frequent hiccough, sometimes a fainting sensation, which comes and goes very suddenly, very black and offensive stools, or high-colored urine. These are some of the symptoms which may occur separately or together. It is a curious fact that some people engaged at these occupations grow quite plump, and apparently enjoy the best of health, having especially a fresh and clear complexion. If, however, they go into any other employment, or refrain from work for some weeks, they are very apt to be visited with many or all of the above symptoms. In either case the RESOLVENT should be used, along with the REGULATING PILLS, the relief being resorted to in order to remove immediate pain or distress.

ELECTROTYPERS, GLASS-STAINERS AND CARD-ENAMELERS, MANUFACTURERS OF CHEMICALS, GOLD AND SILVER PLATERS AND REFINERS, are liable to many of the above symptoms. Electrotypers are especially liable to derangement of the bladder.

PRINTERS AND TYPE-FOUNDERS, from their constant handling of type-metal, contract the effects of antimony. This is shown by the temporary paralysis of the fingers and hands, copious stools, cold night-sweats, loss of strength, tenderness of stomach, bowels and throat. Sometimes though drinking nothing but water, they feel a confused, semi-intoxicated sensation in the head. The treatment here is gentle purging with RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS, aided with the READY RELIEF as a drink; when the disease has become chronic the RENOVATING RESOLVENT must be used as an adjuvant to the RELIEF and PILLS.

MASONS AND BRICKLAYER'S ASSISTANTS, AND MORE ESPECIALLY LIMEBURNERS AND WHITEWASHERS, are constantly liable to vomiting, pains in limbs or temporary palsy, which latter sometimes becomes permanent. A milk-diet, mucilaginous drinks, and the use of the READY RELIEF will remove most of these symptoms, the RESOLVENT being also necessary where palsy supervenes. Sometimes costiveness follows, demanding the use of the REGULATING PILLS. The particles of lime in the eyes are very apt to produce conjunctivia, which will yield to an eye-wash, made of sassafras pith and water, into which the READY RELIEF is put, in the proportion of six drops to every two table-spoonfuls, increased gradually to ten drops. A dose or two of the REGULATING PILLS will materially assist in subduing the inflammation.

POWDER-MAKERS

are subject to heart-throbbing and heart-disease, with looseness of bowels; and both these and are liable to a very troublesome skin-disease, developing itself on the scalp, and sometimes in little patches, on the back of the thumbs or fore-fingers, or at the lower extremity of the spine, attended with itching, and scaling off of the cuticle. In the former cases the REGULATING PILLS will be found sufficient, conjoined with the READY RELIEF; in the latter the RESOLVENT internally, with the RELIEF applied externally, diluted at first, but gradually increased to its full extent. The REGULATING PILLS may be advantageously used, if indicated by the state of the stomach and bowels.

The effect of alkaline contact is sometimes shown on

is coils, costiveness and diarrhœa. The READY RELIEF

BLEACHERS AND OTHERS, EXPOSED TO CHLORINE OR OTHER FUMES OR ACIDS, are apt to be attacked by pains in throat, stomach or bowels, succeeded these and by corresponding symptoms. If the exposure is long continued at one time, there comes an acid taste in the mouth which leaves after the free air is inhaled; but this only occurs from short exposure. The symptoms named first give way to the READY RELIEF. The addition of a slight dose of calcined magnesia will aid the action of the medicine slightly; but it is not absolutely necessary. The RELIEF will do its work well without it. The makers of lucifer-matches are sometimes troubled with the above symptoms, caused by the phosphorus which enters into the composition of the tips. A chronic inflammation of the glottis and trachea is sometimes the result of this—coming on very insidiously, and if not checked extending to the windpipe and even to the branching air-tubes of the lungs, called by the doctors, the bronchia. When this commences it may be soon checked by a gargle made up of equal proportions of the READY RELIEF and water.

We will next examine the cases of those who are affected by disease from irritating substances applied to the lungs and air-passages mechanically, with which, indeed, some of these mentioned previously might be classed.

CARPET AND OTHER WEAVERS, CHARCOAL DEALERS, BOILER-MAKERS, WHITESMITHS, LOCKSMITHS, MACHINISTS, FURRIERS AND FUR DEALERS, GLASS-CUTTERS, AND GRINDERS, MATTRASS-MAKERS, TEA-PACKERS, CUTLERS, FILE-MAKERS, LAPIDARIES, SCULPTORS, STONE-CUTTERS, SLATERS, CARPET-BEATERS, GRINDERS AND POLISHERS, STREET-SWEEPERS, AND WOOL-PULLERS—are subject particularly to bronchial affections and consumption, arising from the floating particles of irritating matter, disengaged during the process in which they are engaged and entering the air-passages. In all such cases RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, applied externally over the throat and chest, and the RENOVATING RESOLVENT, taken internally, will speedily effect a cure, and remove all traces of incipient consumption.

were formerly included in the same position, but the advent of silk hats has greatly diminished this tendency. A respirator is very necessary as a preventive, and, indeed, as an aid to cure. A silk handkerchief loosely tied over the mouth and nostrils, when directly exposed, is as good as anything. A generous diet, vigorous, out-door exercise, and the use of the READY RELIEF and RESOLVENT will soon restore the system to health.

FARMERS, OSTLERS, GROOMS, AND ALL WHO HANDLE HAY, are liable to the distressing, though rarely fatal, complaint, asthma. The fumes of shellac produce the same disease, and hence hatters, and especially those who make sealing-wax, are subject to it. Asthmatic people are proverbially long-lived, yet the complaint is by no means agreeable. The READY RELIEF will mitigate or remove the paroxysms of the disease, and the RENOVATING RESOLVENT, taken according to directions, will effect a cure.

BAKERS,

from the action of the acid of fermentation on the skin of their hands, and the almost constant exclusion of air from the pores by the flour, are subject to a troublesome itch. For this the RENOVATING RESOLVENT is a sure remedy, but the RELIEF, diluted and applied as a wash, will aid in effecting the desired end sooner.

Occupations wherein sudden mental emotions, or protracted mental labor forms a part, are not only productive of brain disease, but of a gradual ramolissement or softening of the substance of the brain, whose approach may be told by neuralgia, either just below the eye, or above the eyebrow. Asthma and costiveness, the latter the parent of piles, details and similar troublesome complaints, are often the result. Hence it is that are affected so much with neuralgia and costiveness. The treatment in these cases is RADWAY'S READY RELIEF—externally, and externally—the pain immediately ceases after its application. RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS will, in a few hours, restore regularity to the bowels and liver. In certain cases of NEURALGIA, and other nervous affections, the RESOLVENT is requisite.

Exposure to heat characterizes some occupations, thus, are liable to asthma, costiveness, rheumatism and inflammation of the spleen and liver. Enlargement of the liver is very common among all persons exposed to intense heat. Hence it is that liver complaints are so common in tropical climates. It need scarcely be said that the liver is a controlling organ, and that its derangement involves all the connecting viscera. The derangement of this viscus may be combated successfully by the proper use of the RELIEF and REGULATING PILLS, which in the spleen disease also act with speedy good effect. For rheumatism, if acute, the READY RELIEF applied both externally and internally is generally found sufficient, though chronic cases, or such as may be combined with a scrofulous habit, will not yield without the RENOVATING RESOLVENT, which utterly roots out the disease, and restores the system to its normal state.

IRON-FOUNDERS, FURNACE-TENDERS, COOKS, AND KITCHEN MAIDS

STEVEDORES, LONGSHOREMEN, PORTERS, QUARRYMEN, AND ALL PERSONS WHO LIFT GREAT WEIGHTS, are exposed to attacks of pleurisy. The RELIEF will break the violence of this, and with the REGULATING PILLS effect a cure.

BOATMEN, DECK HANDS, DITCHERS, DOCK-BUILDERS, SEAFARING MEN, RAFTSMEN, PHYSICIANS, STAGE-DRIVERS, TRUCKMEN, and all exposed to sudden changes of weather, are liable to liver complaint and rheumatic affections, but more especially to spleen disease.

SEAMEN,

through long abstinence from vegetable diet, are subject to SCURVY. The use of RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS and RENOVATING RESOLVENT is a sure antidote for this distemper. In all cases of SHIP-FEVER, SMALL-POX, CHOLERA, OR YELLOW FEVER, RADWAY'S READY RELIEF and REGULATING PILLS are positive preventives, if taken before the attacks, and certain curatives if used after.

STAGE DRIVERS

are liable to suffer from diabetes, for which the REGULATING PILLS and RESOLVENT should be used.

PHYSICIANS,

who are frequently much exposed, should never be without the READY RELIEF, especially in visiting patients sick with contagious diseases. The head, hands and face thoroughly washed with it, and a full dose of it taken internally just previous to the visit, will effectually prevent contagion. The power of the RELIEF in the matter of contagious diseases is really wonderful. It is a sure preventive to SMALL-POX, and in a well-known disease among cattle, known as BLACK-TONGUE, depending, no doubt, upon some contagious virus, yields so readily to this remedy, that through the South and West, look upon it as a sovereign and infallible remedy in all such cases. Hence, too,

BOATMEN, PLANTERS, OR FARMERS RESIDING IN LOW OR OCCASIONALLY OVERFLOWED GROUNDS, will find the RELIEF a protection against FEVER and AGUE and other malarious diseases.

PRINTERS AND MINERS,

the former from their standing so long at the case, and the latter from their cramped position in the mines, added no doubt by the dampness, have more or less troublesome affections of the joints occasionally. These will always yield to the RELIEF AND REGULATING PILLS, unless suffered to run too long, when the RESOLVENT may be required.

BUTCHERS

occasionally have life or limb endangered by a scratch or cut from a knife which has been used in dressing or opening an animal too long killed. Swelling of the part, itching and enlargement of the neighboring glands (kernels) follow. The wound should be washed, and a bread poultice, (not bread and milk, moistened with some drops of READY RELIEF, employed. The swelling should be bathed with the RELIEF, and the REGULATING PILLS used until the violence of the symptoms has abated. It may as well be mentioned here, that the making of a really good poultice is little understood. Stale bread should be rubbed into a fine crumb, and placed in a soup-plate or large saucer, over which water, while boiling, must be poured. A similar plate or saucer is now to be placed over this, the two grasped firmly and held up sideways, so that the water will drain out. The wet crumb is now to be rubbed into a pasty consistence with a spoon, placed on a rag at once, and applied to the part as warm as the patient will bear. As soon as it begins to harden around the edges a fresh one should be substituted, and thus a continual fermentation be kept up. That is the true poultice, which may be medicated by the RELIEF, or otherwise, if required.

BASKET-MAKERS, BOOT AND SHOE MAKERS, AND TAILORS, from their sedentary habits, are subject to piles, anæmia, tympanites, costiveness, hypochondria, diabetes, St. Vitus' dance, dropsy of chest, general debility, and, if the habit of the body tend that way, to apoplexy, or if not to consumption and lung disease. The treatment of these under our system is summary and effectual. For hypochondria, the RELIEF and PILLS; for dropsy and St. Vitus' dance, the REGULATING PILLS and RESOLVENT; and for anæmia, all three of the remedies. The treatment of the other affections have been already indicated.

The complaints of females engaged at various occupations are somewhat different from males, in consequence of their peculiarity of organization. It is true that those who lead a sedentary life, or are occupied in pursuits which require them to stand or lean over their labor, are subject to similar diseases with those of the opposite sex in like occupations. Thus are liable to costiveness, piles, and general debility. But what they have most to dread is the derangement of those secretions which nature has wisely given them for their health and comfort. They are particularly liable to hysteria, obstructed, painful or irregular menstruation, whites, kidney weakness, nervous debility, swimming of the head, inflammation of the ovaries, and womb disease, for all of which the RELIEF AND REGULATING PILLS are decidedly prescribed; or subject to chlorosis, to be removed by the use of the RESOLVENT, in addition to the other two remedies named.

Perhaps of all female occupations that of

is liable to the most distressing symptoms, more especially when the ventilation of the work-room is not perfect, standing position, monotonous employment and

THE SPINGLER INSTITUTE,
UNION-SQUARE AND FIFTH-AV., CORNER 18TH-ST., MURRAY HILL.
This institution, commenced Monday, Sept. 5, has been so favorably known for the last fifteen years, and will still continue at Washington-square, and Union-place. Union-square was opened for its present year's course, and will be visited, as usual, for its Library, Philosophical and Astronomical Apparatus, Laboratory, and Works of Art, involved an expenditure of nearly three thousand dollars. Since Spring, it has been transferred to the elegant, the celebrated premises and grounds (as above) on the Fifth-av., corner of 18th-st., Murray-hill, purchased with special reference to the accommodation of the higher classes—candidates for business, and young ladies wishing to pursue an advanced course in general reading, History, Literature, Languages, Music and Art.
Special attention will be given to the 18 Union-square, 18 of the 'Collegiate, the Academic, and the Primary Departments, preparatory to their promotion. For the convenience, however, of those residing near other location, the same provision will be made at each for pupils of every grade and class.
The privileges and course of instruction will be almost identical, under the same supervision, and to a great extent conducted by the same teachers; so that parallel classes will be only sections of the same, and the Seniors of commencement will graduate together. Interesting lectures and exercises, at either place, will sometimes be shared by the members of both sections of the classes, as when they are intended.
An Autumn session at Union-square, will commence on Wednesday, Sept. 14; at Murray Hill, on Wednesday, Sept. 21.
The exercises at Murray Hill will continue to occupy the present rooms, at Union-square, until further notice, when, if any, of the latter, will be duly advertised.

FINANCIAL.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF THE EXPRESS AND LEXINGTON RAILROAD.

James Winston, Trustee, &c., Plaintiff, in Equity, vs. The Lexington and Danville Railroad Company et al., Defendants.

Pursuant to and by virtue of the judgment of the Fayette Circuit Court in the cause, at its present term, and an order of said Court, I shall proceed on WEDNESDAY, the 5th day of October next, at the Court-House door in the city of Lexington, to sell to the highest and best bidder, all the embraced in the mortgage of the plaintiff, including the RAILROAD, about CEDAR and WEIGH-HOUSES, the LOCOMOTIVE CARS and MACHINERY, and the Fuel and Movable chattels of every description on hand and in the possession of said Company; and also, all the rights of said Company as lessee of the road between Paris and Lexington from the Maysville and Lexington Railroad Company, and all their rights as lessees from the Lexington and Danville Railroad Association, of the road from Lexington to Nicholasville.

The sale will be upon the following terms, to wit:

First—The purchaser will be required to pay the principal and interest of the four hundred bonds of $1,000 each, issued under and secured by the first mortgage of said Company at the times and place when the same shall become due. These bonds with the mortgage under which they are issued will continue until fully paid off, to constitute a first lien on the property.

Second—The purchaser will be required (if his bid embraces the same) to pay the principal and interest of the one thousand bonds of $1,000 each, issued under the second mortgage of said Company, as follows, to wit: The principal on the 1st of March, 1861, and the interest at the rate of seven per cent. semi-annually, on the 1st of March and September in each year, at the Bank of America, New-York City. Also, the sum of $32,000, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the 1st of September, 1859; and $36,000, with like interest, from the 1st of March, 1860; and $36,000, with like interest from the 1st of September, 1860, until the day of sale, together with the plaintiff's costs in this suit. For the mentioned sums, with interest at the like rate from the day of sale, the purchaser will be required to execute bonds with good securities, payable in equal installments, at six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, and having the effect of judgments.

To secure the payment of the principal and interest of the second mortgage bonds, the purchaser will be required to deliver to the Commissioner securities of the each value of $100,000, which may consist of bonds of the State of Kentucky of Ohio, at par, or bonds of the United States, or any other State in the Union which sell in the City of New-York at or over par; or first or second mortgages on Steamboats, or on Railroad Companies, or mortgages upon unincumbered real estate in Kentucky or Hamilton County, Ohio, (the purchaser defraying the expense of investigating the title to and ascertaining the value of such property.) The Commissioner is authorized to receive other securities than those named, (if of undoubted permanent value,) subject to be approved by the Court. The bonds securing upon the securities thus deposited will be for the benefit of the purchaser until details made by him.

The purchaser will be further required to invest annually sixty thousand dollars of the revenues of the property in sale and productive securities as the Court may direct. Of the sum, thirty thousand dollars shall constitute a sinking fund to pay the principal of the 1st and 2d Mortgage Bonds, and thirty thousand dollars shall go to create a contingent and renewal fund; but any sums expended by the purchaser in the improvement and renewal of the road (over and above the ordinary current repair) will be deducted from the appropriation to the contingent and renewal fund for that year.

Third—If his bid embraces the same, the purchaser shall execute his bonds with good security, having the effect of judgments, and payable in equal installments at six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, with interest upon each the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, for the payment of the first mortgage bonds on the third mortgage bonds, (except those held by Bowler, Robbins, and S. J. & J. W. Walker, at the institution of this suit,) with like interest on each installment of the same, from the time they severally become due until the day of sale. He will also be required to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing on the same, from the day of sale, at the place where they shall become due. As a security for the payment of the said principal and interest, the purchaser must deliver to the undersigned securities to the each value of $100,000, and of the same character as those required for the security of the second mortgage bonds, and in addition to those named, third mortgage bonds of this class will be received.

Fourth—If his bid embraces the same the purchaser will be required to execute bonds with good security, and having the force of judgments, for the payment in three equal installments, at six, twelve and eighteen months, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, of the following sums, to wit: $10,000, like interest from the 1st of July, 1859, till the day of sale; the sum of $9,000, with like interest, from the 1st of May, 1858, till the same day; the sum of $8,000, with like interest, from the 1st of November, 1857, till the same day; the sum of $9,000, with like interest, from the 1st of May, 1859, till the same day; and the sum of $3,500, with like interest, from the 1st of July, 1859, till the same day.

Fifth—If his bid embraces the same, the purchaser will be required to execute bonds, with good security, payable in six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, and having the force of judgments, for the payment of all the interest in arrear on the second mortgage bonds held by Bowler, Robbins and S. J. & J. W. Walker, at the institution of this suit, together with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the time of the several installments thereof fell due until the day of sale. And he shall also be bound to pay the principal and interest of said third mortgage bonds at the times and place where they are payable, and as security for the same shall deposit with the Commissioner securities of the each value of $100,000, of the character and upon the conditions prescribed for the other third mortgage bonds. The two classes of third mortgage bonds referred to in this and the third specification are issues in the aggregate 500 bonds of $1,000 each.

Sixth—For the remaining purchase money (if any) the purchaser will be required to execute his bonds, with good security, that the terms of the sale will be complied with by him within twenty days. If the deposit is not made the bidder will be reported to the Court for a contempt, and the sale will proceed as though his bid had not been made. If, after making the deposit, the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale within the prescribed period, the property will be again sold, and the deposit will be retained to meet the cost and damage arising from this non-compliance. So soon as the purchaser has received his certificate of purchase, the possession of the property will be delivered to him, to be retained by him until the sale is confirmed or set aside by the Court. If confirmed, the purchaser shall constitute a sinking fund to pay the principal of the 1st and 2d Mortgage Bonds, and thirty thousand dollars shall go to create a contingent and renewal fund; but any sums expended by the purchaser in the improvement and renewal of the road (over and above the ordinary current repair) will be deducted from the appropriation to the contingent and renewal fund for that year.

Third—If his bid embraces the same, the purchaser shall execute his bonds with good security, having the effect of judgments, and payable in equal installments at six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, with interest upon each the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, for the payment of the third mortgage bonds, (except those held by Bowler, Robbins, and S. J. & J. W. Walker, at the institution of this suit,) with like interest on each installment of the same, from the time they severally become due until the day of sale. He will also be required to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing on the same, from the day of sale, at the place where they shall become due. As a security for the payment of the said principal and interest, the purchaser must deliver to the undersigned securities to the each value of $100,000, and of the same character as those required for the security of the second mortgage bonds, and in addition to those named, third mortgage bonds of this class will be received.

Fourth—If his bid embraces the same the purchaser will be required to execute bonds with good security, and having the force of judgments, for the payment in three equal installments, at six, twelve and eighteen months, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, of the following sums, to wit: $10,000, like interest from the 1st of July, 1859, till the day of sale; the sum of $9,000, with like interest, from the 1st of May, 1858, till the same day; the sum of $8,000, with like interest, from the 1st of November, 1857, till the same day; the sum of $9,000, with like interest, from the 1st of May, 1859, till the same day; and the sum of $3,500, with like interest, from the 1st of July, 1859, till the same day.

Fifth—If his bid embraces the same, the purchaser will be required to execute bonds, with good security, payable in six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale, and having the force of judgments, for the payment of all the interest in arrear on the second mortgage bonds held by Bowler, Robbins and S. J. & J. W. Walker, at the institution of this suit, together with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the time of the several installments thereof fell due until the day of sale. And he shall also be bound to pay the principal and interest of said third mortgage bonds at the times and place where they are payable, and as security for the same shall deposit with the Commissioner securities of the each value of $100,000, of the character and upon the conditions prescribed for the other third mortgage bonds. The two classes of third mortgage bonds referred to in this and the third specification are issues in the aggregate 500 bonds of $1,000 each.

Sixth—For the remaining purchase money (if any) the purchaser will be required to execute his bonds, with good security, that the terms of the sale will be complied with by him within twenty days. If the deposit is not made the bidder will be reported to the Court for a contempt, and the sale will proceed as though his bid had not been made. If, after making the deposit, the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale within the prescribed period, the property will be again sold, and the deposit will be retained to meet the cost and damage arising from this non-compliance. So soon as the purchaser has received his certificate of purchase, the possession of the property will be delivered to him, to be retained by him until the sale is confirmed or set aside by the Court. If confirmed, the purchaser shall retain in his hands, but if quashed, he will be required to surrender the possession to a Receiver of the Court, and to account for and pay over the earnings of the property while in his possession. After which the securities deposited by him will be returned.

The Court reserves the power by summary proceedings against the purchaser, to enforce compliance with the terms of sale; and should full payment be made, to compel the purchaser to keep the property in good repair, and in case of default on his part to appoint a receiver to take the property in possession, or to order a resale. And to secure a full and complete compliance with the terms, a lien will be retained upon all the property, rights and franchises, and the income arising therefrom, to which lien no security of the purchaser will be thrown, until the terms of the sale are fully complied with.

For two days next preceding the sale, there will be exhibited at the Clerk's office of the Fayette Circuit Court, in Lexington, an inventory of the property to be sold. And the undersigned will himself attend to exhibit the same, and give information concerning the property and the Company's title thereto, and interest therein.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

A Marine Assaulted in his own Office.—About 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Francis McCann, a well-known Ward politician, and keeper of a public house in Broadway, corner of Twelfth-street, went into the business office of the Daily News, and entered into conversation with Mr. W. Dayton Parsons, the proprietor of that paper. After a short amicable discussion of the business prospects of the concern, McCann inquired the name of the author of a leading article in that journal of yesterday, entitled "Who took the Bullies to Syracuse?" and which was calculated to fix the responsibility of the act upon the Tammany Hall Democracy, of which organization McCann is an editorect. Mr. Parsons, not anticipating McCann's vicious intention, referred the latter to Mr. Thomas F. Thompson, the editor, who happened at that moment to enter the publication office. McCann repeated his question. Mr. Thompson responded by inquiring what was the matter with the articles alluded to. McCann wanted to know who wrote articles of that character. The editor answered that he sometimes wrote them. Scarcely had these words been uttered when McCann gave Mr. Thompson a sudden back-handed blow in the face which partially scored him. As he was in the act of rising after the slap, McCann caught his opponent by the coat collar, and struck him a second blow in the face with his clenched hand, which had the effect of breaking Mr. Thompson's nose. During the time of the assault a number of McCann's friends, who are said to be connected with the Street Department, waited at the door that they might render any needed assistance to the assailant. Shortly after the fracas was over, went off with those attendants. Mr. Thompson immediately went before Ald. Baker and entered a complaint against his assailant for assault and battery. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Mathews, of the Second Precinct, who soon arrested the accused, who was held to bail in $500 to answer the charge. The bail was speedily furnished. It is said that McCann and his friends, after the matter had been taken to court, made earnest efforts to compass a settlement, but Mr. Thompson insists on bringing the case to a trial.

Cobbers on Shoulder Arms.—Most citizens of New-York have probably ere this been apprised, in due form, of the fact that the annual parade of the "First Division New-York State Militia" will come off on the 14th of October next, at which time every male citizen of sound constitution, between the ages of 18 and 45, who has not previously laid his six shillings on the altar of Mars, will be required to present himself, duly armed and equipped, in his proper district, to undergo review and take a drink at the nearest corner grocery. The season for commutation commenced a week ago to-day, and continues till the day of parade. The amount received in commutation fees last year at the Tax-Receiver's office was $9,[illegible]. Year before last it was over $10,000. This year there has been received thus far only $248, and for the week out of the four during which the payments are made has already passed, the indications are that the receipts this year will be lower than ever. One cause of the decline is said to be an impression, which prevails extensively, that the statute requiring the payment of commutation fees is illegal, and may be disregarded with impunity. It is certain that the law has not hitherto been very signally enforced against delinquents, and it is probably from this fact that the impression has been derived; but we are assured, on the best legal and military authority, that there is no defect in the law, and that every person who neglects to commute, or to appear at the annual parade, is liable to a fine of $3. The only question on which there had ever been any doubt, so far as relation to the application of the law to naturalized citizens; and on this point the Supreme Court has decided, that every male resident of the prescribed age, is prima facie liable to military duty, and that the excuse of non-citizenship must be made to the military Court of Appeals, within the time specified in the notice, and will not avail as a defence after the imposition of the fine. The amount collected in commutation fees, after paying expenses of collection, is divided equally between the different regiments in this Division, and is applied to the musical expenses of the regiment. The Seventh Regiment received last year $500, and as it costs each member of that regiment from one to three hundred dollars annually out of his own pocket, it is argued that private citizens, for whose gratification they so often parade, should not begrudge the small sum of $3 each towards paying for the music.

Burning of the Steamboat John Farron.—The steamboat John Farron, which has been lying up for some two months past on the south side of Newtown Creek, at Greenpoint, was, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, discovered to be on fire. The alarm having been given, the firemen of the Eastern District hurried to the spot, but the fire, which mysteriously originated below, had already burnt through the upper deck, and extended to the after-part of the boat, threatening her total destruction. The flames were not entirely extinguished until near 7 o'clock, when it was found that the entire after-part of the boat was burnt away. This steamer, having been in a costly speculation, and, it is supposed, contributing to their embarrassments. The boat was in charge of their assignees. The John Farron was built about two years ago, and was intended for a passenger boat on the Sound, but some peculiarities in her machinery, which were intended to demonstrate new principles in the mode of steam propulsion, did not work well, and rendered her unserviceable. The cost of the experiments, with the boat, are put down at over $80,000. She was insured in New-York, Hartford and Providence.

The City Railroads and Street-Cleaning.—Several weeks have elapsed since an ordinance was introduced in the Board of Aldermen, requiring the different City railroad companies to sweep their tracks and a portion of the pavement on either side of them, twice a week, and prescribing a penalty of $100 for every failure on their part to comply therewith. By their charters, the companies are required to keep a certain portion of the streets and avenues in which their tracks are laid down, swept and in repair, but generally they have neglected to comply with the law provisions, and the City has been compelled to perform the duty at its own expense. There is certainly no reason why these wealthy corporations, whose income from their valuable franchises is enormous, should fail to comply with their charters in this respect, and the ordinance in question, which has been laid over three times, should be passed without delay. The City Inspector especially desires that immediate action should be taken in this matter, so that in making his contract for cleaning the streets with sweeping machines, he may have a clear understanding with regard to the part which the railroad companies are to perform. If it is made imperative to them to keep the tracks and the adjacent pavements clean, probably they will join with the City Inspector in employing the sweeping machines.

Violent Deaths from Various Causes.—Catharine Meier, a German woman, 24 years old, residing in Fifty-third-street, near Tenth-avenue, took arsenic and died, Monday evening. Coroner Ingraham's jury found that she was far advanced in pregnancy, and unable to conceal her condition, committed suicide. Catharine Bruen, aged 86 years, fell from the piazza of the second story of No. 67 Cedar-street, Monday evening, and fractured her skull. She died at the Hospital soon after. The Coroner's jury censured the owner of the building because the piazza was in such an unsafe condition. Jas. McCann, a hod-carrier, fell to the sidewalk from the new building corner of Fifth-street and First-avenue, and was killed instantly. His body is at the Seventeenth Ward Station-house. Edward Follms, aged 20 years, who fell through the second story hatchway of Henry C. Dowler's store, No. 20 Cortlandt-street, died early yesterday morning. Verdict—"Accidental death." One Harrison was almost instantly killed, yesterday morning, by falling from the roof of No. 34 Gouverneur-street to the sidewalk.

North Atlantic Steamship Company.—The departure of the Star of the West, yesterday, for Aspinwall, with the mails and California passengers, completes the arrangement heretofore existing between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the United States Mail Steamship Company—M. O. Roberts' line; and the whole business programme of the respective Companies will now be changed. The steamers hereafter to be employed in carrying the California passengers from this port, by the regular or mail line, will be the Baltic, Atlantic and Adriatic, which will depart from the foot of Canal-street, the old pier of the late Collins line, and not from the foot of Warren-street, as heretofore. The ticket-office of the Company has also been changed from No. 177 West-street to the Canal-street dock, which is the only place where passengers can now procure the tickets for these steamers. The new arrangements of the Company are set forth in their advertisement of to-day.

To the Fair of the American Institute.—At Palace Garden, everything is yet in a state of confusion. Last year the Institute had to contend with fire, this year water, which has expended, and is still expending, its energies in the vain endeavor to crush the hopes of the Managers and thwart their endeavors. The rain of Friday and Saturday put back preparations one about a week, and yesterday's drizzle was most inopportune. Through the week designated for the reception of goods articles have continually been coming in, but with them have come numerous requests for a postponement of the opening day. As will be seen by advertisement, these requests have been complied with. Until Saturday goods will be received, and on Tuesday next the Fair will be opened to the public. Every one businesses entering their articles until the last day which is designated, and yesterday the aisles of the Garden were kept very busy. We think some anticipate a successful opening, after the rain, some a partial failure.

Gov. Beukenhausen Welcomed Home.—A large number of the friends of Alms house-Gov. Chas. Beukenhausen assembled at his residence, No. 95 Second-avenue, last evening, to congratulate him on his safe return from Europe, where he has been spending several months. A numerous delegation from the German Singing Societies was present, with a fine band of music, which performed several national airs exceedingly well. At their conclusion the Governor came forward and was greeted with loud and enthusiastic cheering. Capt. J. W. Hasse, on behalf of a committee appointed for the purpose, presented a series of resolutions, welcoming the Governor home and commending his private character and his conduct as a public officer. The resolutions, which Capt. Hasse accompanied with a brief speech, were adopted unanimously; and Gov. Beukenhausen responded appropriately. Other speeches were made, other music executed by the band, and the assemblage at a late hour dispersed.

A Chapter of Casualties.—The Police report the following casualties to have occurred within the last 30 hours: Catharine Mullay, of No. 80 Elm-street, in attempting to fill a lighted camphene lamp was seriously burned by its explosion. She was taken to the City Hospital... A man named Chas. McGovern, fell from car No. 22 on the Second-avenue Railroad, at the corner of Chrystie and Grand streets. The wheel passed over his right arm and hand, cutting off the thumb and first finger... Mr. Agnes and child were ran over and slightly injured in Broadway by a horse and wagon. They were conveyed home... Dennis Murray fell from a platform of the screw dock, at pier No. 30 East River, and fractured his ribs. Officer DuCourcey, of the Seventh Precinct, took the injured man home.

Homicide at Sea.—Yesterday morning Officer Van Dersea and the crew of Harbor Police Boat No. 2, boarded the ship Dewitt Clinton, just arrived from Liverpool, and arrested John Cowen, alias Powell, for stabbing James Anderson, a shipmate, on the 15th of August. Anderson died on the 16th. The United States Marshal held the prisoner for examination.

Police Reports.

Robbery, Grand Larceny and Theft.—Mrs. McCutchen, of No. 45 Essex-street, appeared before Justice Bergman yesterday, and charged Samuel Harrington with coming into her store, in Front-street, and stealing her gold watch, valued at $75. The watch was found upon his person, and he was committed in default of $1,000 bail... Charles Williams picked the pocket of a gentleman in Philadelphia, a few days ago, and escaped to New-York. He was arrested on a Jersey City Ferry-boat yesterday, and sent back to Philadelphia for trial... William Reed complained that John Butler and Frank McCarthy had robbed him of a passage-ticket to Philadelphia and several other articles, in all valued at $8 50. The property was recovered, and Justice Osborn committed the robbers for trial... Ellen Dorsey, of Leonard-street, charged Catharine Spence, alias Kate Murphy, with having stolen a gold watch from her, valued at $45. The twain had been drinking together, and when Ellen had become somewhat intoxicated, Kate seized and ran off with the time-piece. Kate, when arrested, confessed the crime, and said she had given the watch to one Thomas Cusick, of Church-street. Cusick was arrested, and then released on a promise to return the watch. Kate was committed for trial.

Feloniously Assaulted.—Mr. John McIntire, of No. 212 East Twenty first-street, made a complaint yesterday before Justice Quackenbush against Louis Oppenhoffer, a boarding-house keeper at No. 275 First-avenue, and John Linder, a baker, whom he charges with stabbing him in the head with a knife, and beating him with a club. A woman named Ann Jane Zeiger, of No. 101 East Sixteenth-street, witnessed the affray. She says that as McIntire was passing by Oppenhoffer's place, about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, a remark was made by the former which seemed to greatly enrage Oppenhoffer, who had a knife and smoothing-iron in his hands at the time, and with these he commenced an attack upon McIntire. While thus engaged, Linder came up, and seizing the complainant by the throat, shoved him down the steps of a lager-bier saloon. As McIntyre lay prostrate at the foot of the steps, three or four men went down and pounded him until their victim was well-nigh senseless. Oppenhoffer and Linder were both arrested, and each, in default of $1,000 bail, was committed to answer the charge.

A Highway Robbery by Daylight.—Two young men, Mr. G. N. Chamberlain, of No. 201 West Thirty-fifth-street, and Mr. Almond P. McConney, were accosted about 3 o'clock, on Sunday afternoon, as they were passing through Lispenard-street, by two females, with whom they commenced a conversation. While thus engaged two men, named James McDermott and William W. Hagan, approached the group and began an assault upon the young men, on the ground that they were insulting the women—one of whom McDermott alleged to be his wife. Hagan knocked Chamberlain down. McDermott performed a similar action against McConney, and afterwards robbed him of a gold watch, valued at $35. The parties were arrested yesterday, taken before Recorder Barnard, and committed to answer in default of $2,000 bail. Hagan pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, and McDermott admitted that he stole the watch. The papers in the case were immediately sent to the Grand Jury.

The Comptroller and the Extension of Beekman-street.

The Comptroller, yesterday, sent the following communication, assigning his reasons for refusing to attend the opening of bids for the contract for extending Beekman-street across the Park, to the President of the Croton Aqueduct Department:

City of New-York, Department of Finance,
Comptroller's Office, Sept. 20, 1859.

M. Van Schaick, Esq., President Croton Aqueduct Department:

Sir: I have received your favor of the 12th instant, asking me to assign my reasons for refusing to attend the opening of bids for the contract for extending a street across the City Hall Park from Beekman-street to Park-place. In reply I have to say, this work does not seem to me to have had inception in accordance with law, and in my opinion is in violation of the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

If I am informed aright the only authority for the action of your Board in attempting this improvement is in the following resolution of the Common Council:

Resolved, That the Street Commissioner be and hereby is directed to advertise for proposals for paving with Belgian pavement a curved carriage-way to be of the width of Park-place, and to cross the lower end of the Park from opposite Park-place to Park-row, passing the fountain in the said Park at about ten feet to the north thereof. Approved by the Mayor Jan. 8, 1859.

Above resolution amended by striking out the words "Street Commissioner" and substituting the words "Croton Aqueduct Department" in lieu thereof. Approved by the Mayor, June 20, 1859.

A compliance with this resolution, by grading, paving, opening and permitting the public to pass unmolested, but for a day, upon the proposed street, would be such a dedication as to preclude the Corporation from ever regaining or closing it except it by act of the Legislature, and by remunerating parties who might have acquired rights thereby. This, therefore, would amount to a sequestration of a portion of the public domain, in violation of the ordinance of 1844, which pledged the proceeds of the sales of the public lands to the redemption of the City debt, and therefore in violation of the public faith. (See Subdiv. 3 of § 1, Title 1, of said Ord.)

To prevent the possibility of wrong to the creditors of the Corporation, the Legislature, in the year 1845, at chapter 225, gave this ordinance all the force of a State law, by the following enactment:

Sec. 5. The ordinance now in force, and approved of by the Mayor of said City on the 23d day of February, 1844, and any ordinance that may hereafter be passed by the said Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, in conformity with the provisions of this law, and relative to the Sinking Fund, shall not be amended without the consent of the Legislature first had and obtained, &c.

Another section of the ordinance imposes upon this Department the responsibility of taking charge of the real estate. I quote the clause (Sec. 1, title 4):

"It shall be the duty of the Comptroller to take charge of all the real estate belonging to the Corporation, and to prevent all encroachments thereon."

It thus appears manifest that in the structure of this ordinance it was the intention not only to pledge the real estate to the redemption of the City debt, but to provide by the sovereign Legislature of the State an officer who was to guard this pledge. This Department is therefore charged with a trust in the matter, and will not permit its violation without at least a protest.

The property proposed to be taken is worth at least four hundred thousand dollars. The mode in which it is taken, as I have mentioned, would amount to an alienation of it without compensation, which would be doing indirectly what the City cannot do directly. It cannot alienate by sale its property, real or personal, except at auction, and then to the highest bidder. (Charter, 1857, Sec. 41.) Upon the consummation of sales in this way, the proceeds are carried to the credit of the Sinking Fund. If the proposed street is deemed an improvement the parties benefited should pay some just compensation. This is the principle upon which all improvements of a similar character have hitherto been made, and I see no reason for making this one an exception, more especially while the City is so largely in debt, and the property proposed to be taken has been pledged to its redemption.

There is a method of reaching the proposed end, which would meet equal justice to all; that is, by applying to the Supreme Court for the appointment of Commissioners of estimate and assessment, who should assess upon parties benefited the just expense thereof. I can see no good reason for making the property in the immediate vicinity a beneficiary to so enormous an amount, without some equivalent. If, as I conceive, the measure is in contravention of law, I am absolved by every principle from participating in its consummation. The charter, in requiring my presence at the opening of bids, manifestly contemplates only the legal contracts of the Corporation.

In conclusion, allow me to assure you that my action is not prompted by private views of the necessity or propriety of the work, but by a conception of the duty imposed upon me by an ordinance which to some degree makes this Department the guardian of our plighted public faith.

I, therefore, must respectfully decline to participate in any way in carrying out the resolution under which your Board claims to act.

Very respectfully, your obedient,
ROBT. T. HAWS, Comptroller.

The Croton Board will lay the subject before the Common Council next Thursday evening.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

Methodist Anti-Slavery Circular.—Some of the leading Methodists in this city have recently issued a Circular of decided Anti-Slavery character. They "hold out to the testimony of their fathers against the great evil of Slavery," believing "that it is the duty of the Church to seek the extirpation of Slavery," and yet they say:

"We hold that the policy of our Church is, and ever has been, to receive into their communion both slaveholders and slaves, whenever they have given evidence of conversion, for the sake of a great and ultimate good, namely, the bringing of slaveholding under the restraints of Christian discipline, and the preparing of the way for emancipation, in a manner consistent with the best interests of both masters and slaves."

This Circular purports to be signed by leading members of the denomination—both laymen and clergymen—representing nearly every society in Brooklyn.

Horse Cars on Atlantic-street.—Horse cars will be placed on the Atlantic-street Railroad this morning, at 10 o'clock. Several days will necessarily elapse before the road is in full working order, but by the first of next week the Company will be ready to accommodate all who wish to ride between the South Ferry and Bedford. New cars, similar to those in use on other roads in the City, but better furnished, lighter, wider, and in every way more comfortable, have been made expressly for this route, and there seems to be a determination on the part of the Company to afford the public every accommodation within their power.

Political.—The Republican Primary meetings will be held on Monday evening next. The Assembly Conventions are called for the 30th inst.; Senatorial Conventions on the 28th inst., and the County Convention on the 1st day of October. The Democratic Judicial Convention will be held on the 11th of October.

City Court.—Calendar for this day—Nos. 45, 48, 51, 52, 54, 55, 56, 63, 8, 13, 14, 23, 42, 1, 15, 25, 27, 36, 46, 57.

It has received the indorsement of thousands of physicians and druggists, who cheerfully testify to its nutritive, medicinal and recuperative qualities.

Orders from the country will meet with prompt attention. Circulars containing a list of articles and prices forwarded to those requiring them.

Tuesday, Sept. 20—P. M.

The Stock Exchange continues active, and the speculation in several of the Railways quite spirited again to-day. The course of prices was somewhat irregular—firm on the first call of the list at the morning Board, but subsequently lower, with a disposition to press sales in the Western shares. Thus Galena and Chicago opened at 77 ⅌ cent., and gradually receded until the close of the Second Board, when 75½ ⅌ cent. was accepted, and that price afterwards bid, as against 76½@¾ yesterday afternoon. It was intimated at the close that one or two of the large speculative holders who failed to take advantage of the first rise to 77@77½, sold their stock in the course of the day. In sympathy with Galena, the shares of the Rock Island fell off to 69¾@⅞, and Michigan Central to 46½ ⅌ cent. Between the Boards some cheap offers were made on the Street to sell Michigan Guaranteed, out of which grew a rumor that the rainstorm of Saturday had damaged the track. The sales at the Second Board were at 28½ ⅌ cent., with 28 ⅌ cent. bid at the close, against 24¾@¾ yesterday afternoon. The demand for Illinois Central was an exception to the weakness of the Western list, a large business was done at 89¼@89½ ⅌ cent. in the Shares, and 88¾ ⅌ cent. bid for the Construction Bonds. In Reading there was less firmness than yesterday; sales in the afternoon at 44½, and 44¾ subsequently bid. In New-York Central there was another large business, and mostly at stiff prices, notwithstanding the heavy sales and settlements of yesterday. About 5,000 shares were taken at the morning Board at 81½@¾ ⅌ cent, the top rates of Monday, after which, on the Street, the price eased off to 81½@½ ⅌ cent., and sold at the Second Board 81¼ ⅌ cent., finally closing, as on yesterday, 81½@81¾ ⅌ cent. In Panama, Pacific Mail, Hudson and Harlem, there was not much done. Pacific a fraction weaker; the others quite steady. State Stocks in fair request, but no improvement in prices. Nearly all the Railway mortgages, except Michigan Southern seconds, were firmer. Erie fourths sold at 40 ⅌ cent., and the seconds at 72 ⅌ cent. Michigan Central 8 ⅌ cents, advanced to 91 ⅌ cent., and Galena seconds to 89 ⅌ cent. The general market, late in the afternoon, closed somewhat unsettled in tone and irregular in prices, though the sellers for the fall were by no means anxious to press their contracts, having been so frequently disappointed of late in the occasional or partial signs of reaction.

The Foreign Exchanges for the Boston mail closed on a fair demand at or within the rates quoted yesterday. The case in Money, and the difficulty of placing it at call better than 5@5½ ⅌ cent. on good Stock collateral, indisposed some of the leading drawers to move on London better than 110½ ⅌ cent. The actual business ranged 110@110½, Bank and Bankers' bills, and on Paris f.5.15@f.5.14¼ at 60 days. There was some short-sight Exchange made on London at 110½, and on Paris at f.5.11½. In the Discount market we have nothing new to report. The Stock Brokers are moderate borrowers at 5@5½ on State and Federal, and 6 ⅌ cent. on other collateral. The Customs increased to-day, from the cargoes of the Persia and Kangaroo, to $183,000; other receipts into the Sub-Treasury, $101,000; payments out, $141,000; balance this afternoon, $5,235,987. The Export of Domestic Produce foots up well again this week—$1,544,445, against $1,047,270 same week last season. The Export of Gold and Silver will not go out until the close of the week. The demand is fair in anticipation of the steamers on Saturday for Havre and Liverpool, with only a moderate supply of California bars, of which we shall have further receipts early next week.
